

November Champions for Christ- Courtesy

Courtesy is treating other people with respect and recognizing that all are made in God's image and likeness.

Saniah Hicks

This student is courteous to everyone she is around without expecting a reward or acknowledgement. She is kind, caring and loving. Saniah is polite and respectful. She shares with her classmates and is loved by all. She is also courteous to those she does not know. I have watched this student help students in other grades at lunch and in the halls. Her courteous manner brings smiles to all who meet her. Nominated by Mrs. Lewis

Congratulations to Second Grader Saniah Hicks

KaLaya Coltrane

Both in the cafeteria and the classroom, this student is always eager and enthusiastic to help! No need to ask her to help, she will take the initiative and ask if she can help. It doesn't matter what the task is, she is courteous and will help with cleaning, organizing, or helping a classmate. This student is a beautiful example of the hands and feet of Jesus. Nominated by Ms. Silver

Congratulations to third grader KaLaya Coltrane

Anson Crandall

This student has been nominated by three staff members.

This student is a kind young man that is always offering to help others in some way. I have observed this student open doors for others, greet his teachers and other staff with morning greetings as well as using his manners. This student has definitely been a role model to others around him with his excellent work ethic and ability to volunteer.

This student is the personification of courtesy. He is always ready with not only a "please" or "thank you," but a smile to show that he really means the words. His actions also, are courteous. He is courteous to his peers by being quiet during instruction, so that others can learn. He says "excuse me" in the hall during class change if he needs to, which is not often because he does not rush or push others. This student treats adults and peers with respect, as Children of God.

This student has matured multiple years since I first met him a little over a year ago. He is quick to help anyone who needs help, whether it is academic in nature, or just a friendly ear to listen to a peer's problem. He volunteers on a regular basis to help adults and students in the building without being asked to, and without need of being rewarded. His Catholic faith continues to grow also through his commitment to Most Blessed Sacrament and his development into a strong young Christian man. I proudly submit him for the November Champion for Christ.

Nominated by Mrs. Hennessy, Mrs. Empie, and Mr. Annesser
Congratulations to eighth grader Anson Crandall

During the month of December we are working on the Theological virtue of Hope.

Hope is the Theological virtue by which we desire the kingdom of heaven and eternal life as our happiness, placing our trust in Christ's promises and relying not on our own strength, but on the help of the grace of the Holy Spirit."
