

We are Champions for Christ!

December 11, 2025

Charger Family,

Tomorrow, December 12, is going to be a very busy day around Most Blessed Sacrament Parish School! The eighth graders are having their Science Fair. Six High School teachers from Central Catholic and St. Francis de Sales will be here in the morning to do the judging. The Fair will be open to parents and relatives beginning at 12:40. The other grades will have a chance to view the projects as well between 12:40-2:10.

The Parents Association hosts the Santa's Workshop tomorrow as well, beginning at 8:00. Students will be shopping during a designated time. Homeroom teachers should have shared that with you through Classdojo. Please make sure that the student's money is in the envelope that came home or some other type of an envelope with a list for whom the student should be shopping for. Set up is this evening Thursday, December 11 at 6:00 p.m. in the Kelly Room for any parents that are able to assist.

Next week is Christmas Spirit Week. See the attached flier for what the students can wear each day.

Holiday shopping has begun! Remember to shop using schoolstore.com/schoolstore.net! Send all of your family and friends to shop here. The school and parish get a percentage of your purchase.
