

Champions for Christ August/September 2026

Cardinal Virtues of Justice- This Cardinal virtue perfects our will and our relationships with the Church and others, including our families and friends. It is about the respect of the rights and dignity of other people and justice toward God

-Related virtue of Respect- speaking and acting according to our own and others rights, status, and circumstances

K-2

This student has displayed the virtue of respect by being a helpful classmate to others during our school day. He has helped friends that are struggling whether it be by loaning supplies (crayons, etc.) they may need, helping remind them of the task given or just reassuring them it will be okay if they are sad. He has also shown respect to his teachers by taking accountability when he has done something wrong and changing his behavior. We appreciate his willingness to always help and his yearning to be as helpful and kind as he can be.

Nominated by Ms. Meyer and Ms. Ruth

Congratulations to First Grader Brian Autry

3-5

This young lady is respectful by listening when adults and other students are speaking. She treats others with kindness. This student supports her classmates without judging their ideas. She is willing to help and completes classroom jobs respecting the classroom and others space. She works on herself by staying after school for tutoring and striving to do her personal best. She is a wonderful addition to our Blessed Sacrament Family.

Nominated by Mrs. Tscherne and Mrs. Cedoz

Congratulations to Fourth Grader Olivia Walker

6-8

I would like to nominate this student for demonstrating respect towards others. She consistently shows kindness, uses appropriate language, listens when others are speaking, and treats their peers and teachers with consideration. Her respectful attitude helps create a positive and welcoming environment. She is a great example of how treating others with respect can make a difference, and I believe she deserves to be recognized.

This student is new to our school this year. This student has shown her teachers respect by paying attention in class, not talking out during instruction, and following all school and classroom rules and procedures. This student has been a welcome addition to her class.

Nominated by Mr. Coulter and Mrs. Avery

Congratulations to Eighth Grader Aubri Chatmon
